

WORLD HERITAGE REFERENCE CHART

Global Distribution & Site Classification

Edition: 2024.01
Reference ID: WHS-REF-001

SITE NAME	LOCATION	TYPE	COORDINATES	NOTABLE FEATURES / CRITERIA
Galápagos Islands	Ecuador	Natural	0.8293 S, 90.9821 W	"Living museum and showcase of evolution." Unusual animal life including giant tortoises and iguanas.
Acropolis of Athens	Greece	Cultural	37.9715 N, 23.7257 E	The Parthenon and associated buildings. Universal symbols of the classical spirit and civilization.
Machu Picchu	Peru	Mixed	13.1631 S, 72.5450 W	Inca citadel set in a tropical mountain forest. Extraordinary architectural and ecological integration.
Great Barrier Reef	Australia	Natural	18.2871 S, 147.6992 E	World's most extensive coral reef ecosystem. Contains over 400 types of coral and 1,500 species of fish.
Historic Centre of Florence	Italy	Cultural	43.7696 N, 11.2558 E	Symbol of the Renaissance. Dense concentration of artistic masterpieces (Giotto, Brunelleschi, Michelangelo).
Serengeti National Park	Tanzania	Natural	2.3333 S, 34.8333 E	Host to the largest terrestrial mammal migration in the world. Exceptional biological diversity.
Angkor	Cambodia	Cultural	13.4125 N, 103.8670 E	One of the most important archaeological sites in South-

SITE NAME	LOCATION	TYPE	COORDINATES	NOTABLE FEATURES / CRITERIA
-----------	----------	------	-------------	-----------------------------

East Asia. Contains the remains of the Khmer Empire.

This document is a simplified reference intended for cartographic use and educational purposes. All data points correspond to official UNESCO World Heritage Centre designations.